HEALTH AND ENVIRONMENT

Marrakech, 23-29 May 2022

We are delighted to announce that YENDA AFRICA is organising its first AAFII event under the theme: Environmental and Social Challenges of Health Crises: Is Health and Environmental Sovereignty in Africa and the Arab World Possible?

Our objective is to create a coalition around the concept of Human Security in the African region, in the Arab world and beyond at the international level, in order to better orient and integrate development actions in their innovative dimensions and to encourage public and private investment in the key sectors of Health and Environment.

AAFII will be held in Marrakech, from 23 to 29 May 2022, welcoming leading experts, business leaders, government officials and development partners to discuss, explore and strengthen synergies for a truly sustainable development of our African continent and Arab world.
